ALBERDI'S LAST WORK.

This is a pamphlet of 70 pages, published at Paris as an apology by Mr. Alberdi for his lengthened residence in Europe, and entitled "Palabras de un Ausente." It is divided into 25 chapters, but may be condensed into three, viz.

1st. Why Alberdi went into exile.

2nd. What are Mr. Sarmiento's merits as a writer and a ruler.

3rd. What are the real characteristics of liberty and progress.

He left Buenos Ayres, he says, because he would not bow his neck to the tyranny of Rosas. If you call me a renegade, he proceeds, because I have since preferred to reside in Europe, you will also have to condemn such famous writers as Grotius and Vattel, who were no less lovers of their country because they wrote their works on international law in France, as Sarmiento did his works in Chile. The author then reviews his services in Europe for benefit of the Argentine Republic, although the "chauvinism" of a Porteño from San Juan classify him as a traitor.

In the second part he pours forth an inexhaustible torrent of wrath against Sarmiento. First he tries to shew that he is a writer not to be relied on, then that he is an unscrupulous and incompetent statesman. Beginning with Sarmiento's book "Civilizacion y Barbarie" he says the author wishes it to be understood that he represents Civilization, and Quiroga barbarism. But it is not because a man is a scholar, says Alberdi, that he is civilized: many of the savages who set Paris on fire and pulled down the Vendome column knew Latin and Greek better than Sarmiento. Some future historian will, he says, classify Sarmiento as a barbarian, possibly more so than Quiroga. He proceeds to censure in the bitterest manner the writings and policy of Mr. Sarmiento, to such a degree that it is manifest the pamphlet is less an apology for his own absence than a sarcastic epitaph on the expiring administration. The rancor and enmity breathed in every line seem to indicate some supposed injury at the hands of Mr. Sarmiento.

The concluding chapters are the only part we have read with pleasure, taking for text the English aphorism:—"The very essence of modern civilization has consisted in securing individual freedom."

Civilization, as he observes, does not consist in gas, telegraphs, railways and steam-boats. England had none of these in the last century, yet she was the school of liberty and progress, where Montesquieu imbibed the principles which he expressed in the apophthegm—"Liberty is security for our persons, property and reputation." On the other hand, insecurity is barbarism, and hence those portions of the Argentine Republic where Indians come in and carry off women into captivity are in a state of barbarism. He concludes by expressing the hope that Buenos Ayres may never again be separated from the Argentine Confederation, and assuring his countrymen that the welfare and progress of the Republic are his dearest wish.

THE LATE MR. GIEBERT.

The death of Mr. Giebert is a public calamity and comes on us almost suddenly, for we only heard last week of his illness, although he had been for some time in delicate health. As the founder of the greatest establishment in South America, the inventor of a new industry, the most distinguished pupil of Baron Liebig, his demise will be regretted on both sides of the Atlantic, following so close as it does upon that of his great master, for Justus Liebig only died last year. Both have been taken away in middle age, but they lived long enough to see their labors crowned with success, and the Extractum Carnis admitted as one of the great practical discoveries of the 19th century. The first successful experiments were made by Professor Liebig in 1847, and Mr. Giebert carried out the discovery 18 years later, by reducing 30 lbs. of butcher's meat to 1 lb. of extract, the latter containing sufficient aliment to make soup for 128 men.

The life of Mr. Giebert is so much identified with the history of his great enterprise that a narrative of the one may serve for both. He was, it seems, son of a Sleswing-Holstein farmer, and spent some of his earlier years at Hamburg.

In 1861 M. Giebert after a lengthened residence in Brazil, visited the Plate. He inspected the various saladeros at work, saw the slovenly manner in which the business was carried on, the immense loss of food, and turned his attention to devising means to economise the great staple of human food—beef. He saw Fray Bentos, then a town boasting of two mud ranchos. The place suited him. He left for Europe, visited Baron Liebig, remained there two months practising and studying, after which he put all his own capital into the scheme, got the necessary machinery made in Berlin and Westphalia (near Krupp's famed establishment,) formed the new firm of M. Giebert & Co., in Antwerp, capital, 1,200,000 francs, and then left for South America.

In May, 1863, he arrived in the Plate, and found the Banda Oriental convulsed by the Flores revolution. Nothing daunted, he pushed on to Fray Bentos, at once closed with Messrs. Lowry, Errasquin and Hughes, for their splendid estancia adjoining Fray Bentos, for which he paid 75,000 national dollars, obtained from Mr. Richard Hughes a lease for one square of land at his saladero, commenced on this small piece of ground to build and put up his machinery in January, 1864, and on August 25th, 1864, commenced at last to work by killing ten animals per day. The first experiment gave satisfaction, and the regular manufacture of the extract of beef thus, in this humble manner, commenced.

The first shipment arrived in Antwerp in Nov., 1864, 260 lbs. consigned to Mr. Bennett. Scientific Europe was astonished; it was pronounced by Baron Liebig as superior to even his most sanguine expectations; samples were sent to the various industrial exhibitions then going on in Europe, and gold medals, testimonials, &c. flowed in on Mr. Giebert.

The little factory in Fray Bentos went on regularly and increased its power to 15 animals per day. The demand for the article each day increased. In 1865 the agent in Europe made a navy contract for 500 lbs per month, whilst the demand from the general market was 1500 lbs monthly. Mr. Giebert seeing his dreams of a life-time thus realized, now purchased Hughes's saladero for £13,400 sterling. Soon the works were found too small: he, therefore, determined to visit Europe, and form a new company with increased capital.

On the 15th July, 1865, he left for Europe and arrived in London in September. Mr. Chas. Gunther, of the firm of Messrs. Corneille and Davis, came forward and offered to launch a new company, capital half a million sterling. In November all the preliminaries being arranged, the new company was launched, and on the 3rd January the share list closed.

Mr. Giebert at once proceeded to Glasgow to order the machinery, where he spent six months designing and superintending it. Never before did the Scotch iron masters get such an order for that class of machinery—All Scotland asked—Where is Fray Bentos?

In April, 1866, the machinery began to be shipped, and concluded the same year: it took six large vessels, of about 600 tons each. Mr. Giebert left England in June 1866, and arrived back in Fray Bentos on the 14th July, precisely one year since his departure. All this time the little factory worked on regularly. He at once commenced to make buildings for the new machinery. The first ship with the machinery arrived out on the 24th Sept, 1866, and subsequently the other 5. In November he began to put up the machinery, and finished the new factory in May, 1868; about three millions of bricks being employed.

On the 25th May, 1868, the new factory commenced working—killing for the first days at the rate of 150 animals, and soon after worked up to 500.

The success of the system has been due to Mr. Giebert's careful attention to Baron Liebig's instructions, coupled with his own chemical knowledge and admirable talents of administration. Numerous other factories of Beef-extract have been started both here and in Australia, but none had the success of Mr. Giebert, whose list of gold medals would form a prouder title than the crosses and decorations of European diplomatists or generals.

In 1864, at the Exhibition of Stettin, the Crown Prince of Prussia presented him with two medals.

1865, the Agricultural Exhibition Committee of Cologne awarded him a bronze medal.

In 1867, at the Paris Exhibition, he obtained two of the great gold medals; one for himself, as creator of a new industry; the other for superior quality of extract.

In 1873, at Vienna, he was rewarded with the sole Grand Medal, completely beating from the field all Australian and other imitations. This was his last triumph. The factory is now so well established that any experienced man can take his place. None, however, will equal the services he rendered to the River Plate, and to the world at large.

CORDOBA AND IMMIGRATION

To the Editors of the STANDARD.

Gentlemen,

A report of the Sub-Committee of Immigration in Cordoba has induced me to write this letter.

The question of immigration to Cordoba, is a question that inspires no real interest in that province. A paragraph now and then in the papers, a declaration in the parlor of the Governor, or in the Chambers of the Legislature, are nothing but an ephemeral and empty tribute to the prevailing ideas of the more civilized parts of the Republic. But the innate feeling of Cordoba is against immigration. The old fogy party dread it, the educated classes are indifferent to it, and the lower classes hate and detest it. The first fear the spread of liberal opinions. The second are too thoroughly imbued with the convictions, antipathies and pride of their Spanish Gothic forefathers, a race that was never fit for anything but fighting, to entertain the belief that emigration could improve them or their country; and the last, the Cordovez peasant, has as great a contempt for a foreigner, let him be English, French, German or Italian, as an Andalusian 'majo' has for the plodding hardworking Gallego.

The report says—"The labors of the Committee have had a very reduced sphere of action; that it was hard work to introduce new ideas, and if the immigrants refuse to come, it is also true that the people of Cordoba, those who might do something to influence a current of immigration, 'are not as yet persuaded of its utility.'"

Here we have the admission, made by a well known editor of a daily paper in Cordoba, that his countrymen are not yet persuaded of the utility of emigration. It is what I have always said, and my observations thereon have not been contradicted by the Cordobese; on the contrary, a letter of mine to the STANDARD, and which was rather severe on the apathy and opposition to all progressive ideas existing in Cordoba, was translated in the Progreso, which while defending the province acknowledged the justice of my charges.

Mr. Sarmiento said or dictated in 1869, the following words—

"It is to be hoped the province of Cordoba, by its favorable situation, extent, diversity of productions and being the centre of several railroads, will commence to attract a strong current of immigration. We accordingly look forward to the period of the second National census, to see that Cordoba will be the province that will have made the greatest relative progress."

Two years have elapsed since these words were penned; and what do we see to justify them? Even the capital of the province has not been awakened by the shrill whistle of the engines of the Central Argentine and the Tucuman Railways! More houses have been built in the suburbs of Rosario in one year than in all Cordoba during five; and as for immigration, with the exception of the promising colony of Tortugas, situated just outside the province of Santa Fe, on the railway, and drawing all its supplies from Rosario, Cordoba, instead of attracting immigration, has witnessed with the most cynical indifference the total breaking up of the English colony at Frayle Muerto, established by Englishmen of fortune, who only asked the authorities to protect them and their herds of cattle from the Indians. Fifteen thousand dollars a year would have done this, and Cordoba preferred seeing the colony abandoned, and what might have been at the present time the richest and most flourishing colony in the whole country, and the means of regenerating the province, is again delivered over to the Pampa.

That Cordoba is naturally a magnificent field for immigration is true, but we might as well ask immigrants to settle in the King of Dahomy's dominions. There must be a radical change in public sentiment, in the mode of education, in the way of thinking of the people of Cordoba, before they can expect to attract foreigners to their soil.

When one leaves Rosario to visit Cordoba it is like moving out of the pale of civilisation, or rather finding one's self transported from the nineteenth century into the sixteenth century; and why? Here is the reason:

In Buenos Ayres there are 305 foreigners to every 1000 inhabitants.

In Santa Fe there are 240 foreigners to every 1000 inhabitants.

In Cordoba there are 8 foreigners to every thousand inhabitants!

Buenos Ayres has 450,000 inhabitants, Cordoba 210,000, and Santa Fe only 90,000.

Buenos Ayres, with her 450,000, has 137,000 foreigners; Santa Fe, with her 90,000, has 21,000 foreigners, while Cordoba, with her 210,000, has 1680 foreigners! and Cordoba is the terminus of the Central Argentine Railway; the whole line of the Rio Cuarto Railway is in her territory, as well as 150 miles of the Tucuman line; she has abundant running streams, large forests, superb grazing and agricultural land, and she has 210,000 in habitants; and she has only been able to attract 1680 foreigners, most of whom are hotel keepers, bakers, barbers etc. in the capital.

This is like Falstaff's ten gallons of sack to one half penny's worth of bread.

Now we all know that immigration is to be had in all countries under the sun if proper means are taken to secure it. It would be much easier at this moment to draw a large immigration to Cordoba than it was in this province when Mr. Castellano landed with his first two hundred families in Santa Fe, and we have 20,000 foreigners, and 1000 arriving yearly. Why cannot Cordoba do the same? The question is answered by the President of the Immigration Committee in that province: "Those who are in a position to promote immigration are not yet persuaded of its advantages." That is to say the Governments, the Authorities, in fact all the better classes are averse to immigration, and would rather vegetate without it. Undoubtedly they see and appreciate what immigration has done for the United States, for Canada, for Australia, for Buenos Aires, but with apathetic indifference exclaim. "We don't want to be any better than our ancestors; they lived and died without foreigners, why should we and our children not do the same"?

Yours truly

THE SANTA FE LOAN.

The Santa Fe seven per cent state loan 1874, is Authorised by Provincial Law of the 22nd June 1872. Issue of £300,000 Stock, in Bonds bearing interest yearly, on the 1st January and 1st July, principal redeemable at par by half-yearly drawings, within 20 years, by means of an accumulative sinking fund of 2½ per cent per annum. Principal and interest payable in sterling in London, free of all Santa Fe taxes. Issue price 92 per cent.

Messrs C de Murrieta and Co. are authorised by the Special Commissioner duly appointed by the Government of the State or Province of Santa Fe, in the Argentine Republic, to receive subscriptions for £300,000 seven per cent Loan of that State.

The Loan is specially secured by the appropriation of the Contribucion Directa, a tax in the nature of an income tax upon land and certain other property, the proceeds of sale of the public lands, and the revenues of the public works and other undertakings to be carried out with the proceeds of the Loan. It will be seen by the Memorandum of the Commissioner, that Santa Fe is one of the most rapidly advancing States of the Republic, and that its general revenue for the year 1872 was £81,812.

The Government reserves the right to increase the amount of the sinking fund in any year.

The principal and interest of the Bonds will be paid in sterling money in London, at the offices of Messrs C. de Murrieta and Co., free from all taxes of any kind in Santa Fe.

The Bonds will be issued, bearing interest from 1st January, 1874, at 92 per cent of their nominal value, payable by instalments as follows—

£ 5	per cent	on application.
15	"	on allotment.
15	"	on 28th Feb. 1874.
15	"	on 30th March 1874.
15	"	on 30th April 1874.
22	"	on 30th May 1874.

Payments in anticipation of instalments may be made on allotment, or on either of the above dates, under discount at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum

Taking into account the accrued interest and discount on prepayment, the price of issue is equal to above 90½ per cent of the nominal value. At this price, allowing for the action of the Sinking Fund, but without allowing for any additional advantages occasioned by the Government increasing it, the loan yields a return of about 8½ per cent. per annum.

Translations of the laws authorising the loan, of the decree appointing the Government Commissioner, and of the official financial statements, can be inspected by any intending subscriber at the office of Messrs. Bircham, Dalrymple, Drake, and Co., 79, Gresham-house, Old Broad-street, London, E.C.

Prospectuses and forms of application may be obtained from Messrs. C. de Murrieta and Co., 79 Adam's-court, Old Broad-street, London, EC.

Memorandum furnished by the Government Commissioner.

Santa Fe is one of the states or provinces which constitute the Argentine Republic. It is situate opposite to the province of Entre Rios, and on the western side of the great river Parana, which flows into the River Plate. It is about 32,850 square miles in extent, of which about 14,000 square miles belong to the Government. The land is level and fertile, and covered in great part with valuable forests. The Parana is navigable for vessels of heavy burden, and within the last few years Rosario, on that river, one of the principal cities of Santa Fe, has become second only to Buenos Ayres for the extent and importance of its business. The question of making it the capital of the Republic has been seriously discussed.

The population of the province, which in 1858 was 41,261, has increased in 1869 to 89,218, or much more than double.

The population of Rosario in 1869 was 23,170. Steamers from Buenos Ayres enter its port daily. There are two monthly lines of steamers which run to it direct from Liverpool, one from New York, and another from Italy. There will shortly be another line from Hamburg. The average number of sea-going ships in the port is 40.

Rosario is the starting point of the Central Argentine Railway, which at present extends as far as Cordoba, a distance of 416 kilometres, with a branch westward to Rio Cuarto, intended to be prolonged to the Andes, and ultimately to unite the Pacific with the Atlantic. Lines of railways from Rosario to Buenos Ayres, and from Santa Fe to the Western Colonies, are also contracted for. The National Congress has recently passed a law giving a guarantee to the former, and also to a line from Rosario to Santiago del Estero.

The total amount of Customs duties received in the ports of Rosario and Santa Fe increased from $539,352 (£107,970) in 1863, to $1,554,074 (£310,814) in 1871, and to $1,978,189 (£395,638) in 1872. These duties belong to the General Government of the Republic, but they serve to show the growing prosperity of the province.

The public lands belonging to the province are of great and increasing value. The average amounts produced by the sale of them in the years 1867 to 1870, both inclusive, was $73,394

(£15,078). By the report of the Engineer and Inspector of Colonies, Señor Don Juan Larguia—published in Santa Fe in the middle of 1872—it appears that many of the lands which had been sold by the Government some years since have increased in value to from 12 to 50 times the price then obtained for them. With the object of profiting by the rapidly increasing value of the lands still in the hands of the Provincial Government, further sales were almost entirely suspended in 1871.

The province possesses 30 agricultural colonies, composed of English, French, German, Swiss, and North American families.

The total revenue of the province increased from $117,625 (£23,525) in 1863, to $409,061 (£81,812) in 1872, thus much more than trebling itself in nine years.

The revenue for the half year ending 30th June, 1873, was $209,980 (£41,996), showing a still further increase.

The proceeds of the loan of £300,000 now proposed to be raised are to be applied exclusively to reproductive undertakings of an industrial and commercial nature. The service of the loan will amount to £23,500 per annum. To secure this there are specially appropriated, in addition to the revenues to arise from the undertakings carried out by means of the loan, the contribucion directa, charged in much the same way as income-tax in England upon lands and certain other property, and the proceeds of the sale of the public lands. The Contribucion Directa has gone on increasing from $30,494 in 1868, to $64,364 in 1872, and $43,303 in the first half of 1873. A large increase, in addition to the natural and regular progression, will take place in the present year, 1874, as most of the colonies (which are exempted from the tax during the first years of their existence) will this year become for the first time liable to it. A new assessment of all property will this year also be made, which from the steady increase in value going on will still further augment the proceeds of the tax. At the lowest estimate I consider that this year the tax in question will produce $100,000, or £20,000, and will go on rapidly increasing. This alone would be nearly sufficient to provide for the service of the loan, without taking account either of the proceeds of sale of the public lands, which when resumed will produce higher prices than when they realized an annual average of $75,394 (£15,078), or the other revenues of the province.

All the particulars of the revenue of the province stated in this Memorandum are taken from official documents, which I am desirous should be open to the inspection of subscribers.

The amounts in this Memorandum are given in hard dollars of 16 to the ounce, and the exchange has been taken at 4s. to the dollar.

B. AYRES CITY IMPROVEMENTS.

4 Gt. George St., Westminster,
Nov. 12th 1873.

Sr. Don Manuel A. Aguirre, President of the Special Commission in Europe of the City of Buenos Ayres Improvements, 4 Westminster Chambers.

Sir,

As the President of the Special Commission in Europe entrusted to obtain tenders for the works of Sewers and Water Supply of the City of Buenos Ayres, we feel it to be our duty to bring directly before you the following circumstances and matters arising from the reported decision of the local Commission in Buenos Ayres, communicated to us through our Representative and Agent Mr. Joseph Hancox, whom we sent to that city to be at the service of the Commission at the opening of the tenders.

During the period of the last two years we had, in conjunction with Mr. Hancox, given this subject the most careful consideration and study, to say nothing of the expense attached to the investigation &c. of construction works of much high importance and magnitude.

We have been informed by our agent that our tenders were considerably the lowest, being as follows—

Drainage	£864,719
Water supply	446,172
Total	£1,310,891

And that therefore on this ground we consider we were fairly entitled to a favorable decision.

Our Agent further informs us that he was asked by the Local Commission to state upon what terms he would engage to receive Bricks if made and delivered by the Commission, and that he offered under writing of the 11th September to pay a price equivalent to the cost price in Buenos Ayres with 15 per cent added, which he hoped would meet the views of the Commission and yet be within the limits of his General Estimates.

The opportunity of personally visiting Buenos Ayres having enabled Mr. Hancox to acquire information upon various matters which we could not previously be acquainted with.

It is clear therefore that practically this operation if agreed to by the Commission would make a considerable reduction from our original Estimate, whilst at the same time it would ensure to the Commission the manufacture of the Bricks without loss.

This modification would, we estimate have reduced our tenders by the sum of £67.000.

And that our Tender would have been represented by £1.243.891.

Mr. Hancox further informs us that certain clauses of a precautionary character which had been attached to our Tenders he had offered to withdraw as explained in a letter to the Local Commission dated the 22nd September, and that these clauses were valued by your Engineer at about £5000, and by the Accountant of the Commission at about £26,500, which latter amount was arbitrarily, we submit, added on to the amount of our original Tender.

We are further informed that an amount of £30,000 or thereabouts was added on to our tender for 'burned pipes,' which must undoubtedly be an error, as no item of that character whatever appears in the schedules upon which our estimates were made.

We maintain, therefore, that the following figures would fairly represent our tenders:

Original amount	£1,310,891
Add your engineer's value of "clauses objected to," if not allowed to be withdrawn.....	5,000
	£1,315,891
Deduct the advantage gained by the Commission as manufacturers for the supply of bricks	67,000
Actual amount of our tender....	£1,248,891

On the other hand, the figures produced by the Local Commission appear to be:

Original amount	£1,310,891
Deductions made by the Commission of which we have no explanation .....?.....	33,222
	£1,277,669
Add the accountant's value of the "clauses objected to".....	25.600
Add for "curved pipes".....	28,800
	£1,332,064
Add modification in the price of bricks	65,040
Erroneous amount of our tender	£1,397,104

With respect to the tender which we are informed has been accepted, for the sake of comparison we subjoin the following figures:—

Original Tenders.

Drainage	1,247,009
Water supply.....	577,175
	£1,824,184

And we are at a loss to understand upon what principle this tender, as compared with others, could have been justly selected for final competition, and the more so when we find the amount of this tender by some process reduced.

From	1,824,184
To.....	£1,322,720

And a still further nominal deduction made, amounting to £48,000.

Leaving the final amount of the accepted tender apparently £1,274,720.

Which we maintain is at least £26,000 in excess of our offer, and in reality does very greatly exceed this figure.

With regard to the question of the difference in time for the execution of the works which we understand to be 6 months only—we need only remark that the view as taken by the Local Commission admits of grave doubt—and that our experience leads us to confirm the period stated by Mr. Hancox, and to say that we believe the work cannot and will not be completed within three years.

In review of the foregoing figures and statements we do think, and we do not hesitate to express our opinion to the special Commission that the Tenders have not been dealt with as we were led to expect from the terms of the invitation and the standing of the gentlemen forming the Commission, and we submit that a fair and reasonable opportunity should have been afforded to our Representative to establish or otherwise the final figures of the Tenders in competition, and we further beg to ask for your consideration of the facts we herewith lay before you, so that some satisfactory explanation should be given to us to remove the feeling of distrust which we cannot deny attaches to the singular manipulation of the estimates against the results of which we formally protest.

We have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedt servant.
Ogilvi Wythes & Aird & Sons.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

To-day is Palm Sunday, the first day of Holy Week. The usual impressive ceremonies at the Cathedral will be presided over by the Archbishop, this being the first Easter that Dr. Aneiros officiates in his pontifical character. This week the theatres will be closed, but a Sacred Concert will be given at the Coliseum on Spy Wednesday. All business will be suspended from Thursday to Saturday. Formerly the trains were not allowed to run, but latterly this prohibition has been wisely removed.

One of the latest London papers states that the Enchantress passed, off the east end of Madeira, on the 23rd Feb., the two telegraph steamers, Edinburgh and Hibernia, all well, and it is confidently hoped that the telegraph cable would be complete between Madeira and St. Vincent by March 15. In such case we may expect to hear to-morrow, or some day this week, that the second section of the South Atlantic cable is complete, although the first, from Lisbon to Madeira, is not yet taken up and corrected; this was postponed till April. As matters now stand we may expect to have Mr. Oldham working through between the River Plate and England before the wool-season sets in, say October.

Mr. Crabtree was yesterday presented with a bag containing $5,000 currency by the employees of the Northern Railway to purchase a gold watch in England and have engraved thereon the following inscription—

"Presented to Henry Crabtree Esq,
"by the employees of the Northern "Railway of Buenos Ayres, as a
"mark of esteem and respect."

This is the proudest testimonial which a manager could wish for, shewing the happy relations with the staff under him. Mr. Crabtree can say when he returns to the Board at London—"When I took charge 6 years ago your shares were at 70 per cent. discount, and now they are at 40 premium." Thus is the second gold watch presented to him; as he got one before at Peterborough, as a proof that he was a good time-keeper.

By the American Mail we learn that President Grant had recalled General Julius White and appointed Thomas W. Osborn of Illinois to be Minister Resident to the Argentine Republic.

President Sarmiento accompanied Mr. Lumb in the Rio Uruguay which left on Friday morning for Concordia, to inaugurate the East Argentine Railway; a piequet of the 7th batt. and baud of music formed the escort.

The City Improvements are progressing; at various street corners you see mysterious openings like shafts in a coal-mine, probably to ventilate the tunnels that are being formed under our city. At the same time the Plazas are being nicely laid out. The Plaza 6th of July, formerly Hueco de Cabezitas, is nicely planted and new houses are springing up around. The Plaza Concepcion bids fair to be one of the most elegant in our city. The Alameda or Paseo Julio has sprung into a charming promenade, and will be all the better when Admiral Brown's statue is put up in the site marked out for it. The Retiro is enlivened by the drill of the garrison, who go through the evolutions well. The commander of the Retiro, Major Donovan, is son of the doctor of that name whom many of our readers will remember.

Building is going on more actively in the outskirts than at any previous period in our recollection. If you take a morning walk out by Calle Santa Fé or Dr. Leslie's quinta you will see numbers of new houses; the same as by Plaza Caridad or the new suburb of San Carlos, where a handsome church has been built, at the terminus of the Rosario railway. Our city must now have over 250,000 inhabitants.

The pleasantest circumstance associated with the memory of the late administration in England is, that Mr. Gladstone's last act before surrendering the seals of office to Her Majesty was to ask, not a peerage for himself or his friends, but a pension of £200 a year for Livingstone's family.

To-morrow our Packet Edition will appear as usual, at 11 a.m., for transmission by the Ebro. Among the passengers going home we note Mr. Hope, of Entre Rios, who goes to visit his family, and will return in a few months. The Boyne, next month, will take some old residents from both sides of the River Plate, who are also returning.

Professor Doering's report, throwing cold water on Mr. Romay's iron discoveries, suggests the idea that coal could be worked much more successfully; and it is known to exist largely at Azul, only 20 leagues from the railway station at Carmen de las Flores. English coal-seekers are now opening up new fields every day. We read in the papers just arrived that Mr. Bryan of Jenkinstown, in Ireland, sold a piece of his estate to some dusky-looking gentlemen from England with their pockets full of small hammers and lumps of coal, who have sunk a shaft, and come on a bed of the best Jaro coal, five feet in thickness. If we could get such people to visit Azul!

Some dissatisfaction is expressed at the delay in the trial of the murderers of Mr. Rucker at Montevideo. Weeks and months elapse, till the enormity of the crime is forgotten. Just the same in the case of the monsters who murdered the Southam family in Santa Fe. In an old number of the British Packet, Dec. 28th 1844, we read the following—"On the 24th "inst. three soldiers apparently half "drunk assaulted a Frenchman close "to the Merced church, and injured "him so much that he died next day. "One of the criminals escaped, the "two others were shot yesterday "morning." That was the time of Rosas.

The Bourbons are not in luck at present. The Princess Maria Teresa died recently, and when her will was opened it was found she left her vast fortune of £500,000 to be divided among her servants. The family jewels to go between the Carlist prince Don Sebastian and the Countess de Chambord.

Much joy has been caused in Peru by the discovery of new guano deposits on the southern coast. Our Peruvian cousins were almost out-at-elbows.

The Reverend Messrs. Gebbie and Ferguson have made a tour of the Southern Camps. The first named gentleman taking the Azul district whilst Mr. Ferguson went the Ajo. Every where they were well received by the protestants of all denominations, and their religious services were well attended.

Messrs. Jacobsen and Soderstedt have their arrangements so complete for the reception of latest papers from Europe by every steamer that on Thursday 26th inst. they gave around to their subscribers the Illustrated London News and other papers of Feb. 28th received per Gallicia.

The young Englishman who was sick in the Hotel Europa is now recuperating at the Village of the Plain, as the doctors considered the air of Flores the best to bring him round. We are authorized to say that nothing could exceed the kindness and attention of the proprietor of the Europa Hotel, Mr. Claraz, to his sick guest, and if the young gentleman in question had been in the bosom of his own family in old England he could not have met a more solicitous and brotherly care than he has done. Mr. Claraz is entitled to a public vote of thanks, at the same time that we regret he has suffered much inconvenience by the closing of his house. Nevertheless he seems to have thought of nothing but the recovery of his young guest, whose first experiences in the River Plate had well nigh proved fatal.

The demise of Mr. Giebert to which we refer in another column has caused much regret through town, and will be lamented where-ever his scientific labors were known. He was emphatically the "sick-man's friend."

He was 50 years of age and leaves a large family: before coming to the River Plate he constructed the Mauá section of the Union road at Rio.

Montevidean quarantine is at last over; port open, free navigation, and some 400 unfortunates, who have been for the last three months locked up in the Athens of the Plate, liberated to return to the bosoms of their families. The port authorities of the Mount notified the Port Captain here yesterday that on Monday morning all quarantine on vessels from Buenos Ayres would be taken off. The general public may be unaware of the immense inconveniences caused by these quarantine restrictions to editors: they not only detain mail bags and newspapers, but prevent the free ingress and egress of subscribers with news, which, after all, is a vital element of a newspaper. As a set-off to this, however, we have to acknowledge the great pleasure which the quarantine has afforded to us in keeping by our side so many valued Oriental friends, who now say farewell. There will people up in M. Video on Monday morning before the grey dawn is breaking, to look out for their friends by the steamer from here, and we trust that it may be for years and it may be for ever before we have both ports closed again.

This morning all the world goes to Donselaar, we hear of purchases made there but a month ago that have left a splendid profit. This Donselaar has become such a celebrated spot that we believe its euphonic name must have some influence in its progress: the branch railway to Ensenada would of course put South Barracas and the South Plaza out there.

Our street was blocked up yesterday by boys in front of the Union club, and tramways could hardly get through. These boys congregate for the issue of a paper called the Presidencia published downstairs under the club rooms: we counted over 100 boys on the kerb stone every one Italian: a few years more and these boys are men; pity there is not more attention paid to their training.

One of our subscribers, recently returned from a visit to Rio de Janeyro, seeing Mr. Carson's advertisement of his Private Boarding Establishment in yesterday's issue called on us to say that we could verily and truly recommend this new boarding house to all intending visitors to the Imperial city. In his opinion its great merit consists in the extreme cleanliness and airiness of the lofty rooms, the convenience of the frequent communication by tramways with the city, and the quiet order in which the house is conducted, making it especially a very desirable residence for families and invalids.

"Notes from Polonous." A gentleman here named Key has received a letter directed to Señor Don Key.

The Cedula market opened very weak this morning, and sales for cash were done as low as 84¾, but towards the closing hour there were more buyers than sellers, rates advanced and closed at 85 cash. Time sales show a very weak market for the end of April, 85 The 'vencimientos' reached 201,000, but the market rules flat, and without the least animation.

Produce men were in rather better spirits today; wools have risen in both markets: the sale announced yesterday by Poyredieu and Bradley at 100 m/c. should have been marked 120 m/c. Messrs. Fewes de Barry and Co. have sold 1,660 arrobas of Entre Rios wool from the estancia El Porvenir belonging to Don Domingo Garbino in Gualeguaychu at the splendid figure of 116 m/c. It is a while since Entre Rios wool has sold for such a price in this market.

The auction at the Banco Hipotecario was the event of the afternoon. The Barton property as set forth in the advertisement was put up; the first lot—nearly a square of land along-side Don Daniel Gowland's quinta between Calles Jujuy, Catamarca and Brazil, with other lots in Barracas. The bank parlour was rather well filled this afternoon Messrs. Orr, Mendez Brothers Mackinlay, Soler, Irigoyen, Torres and others, yet not a single bid was made for the property, and consequently the auction amounted to nothing.

The sales were as follow:

Rather a stiff and unexpected shipment, but from the rate of exchange on Montevideo it is pretty clear that when that port is opened and steamers plying much gold will go down.

It may be important for the commercial public to know now that the Mortgage Bank is selling so much real estate that the rule of the Bank is the purchase money of all the property sold by the bank at a foreclosure sale must be paid in money and not, as many supposed, in Cedulas. This of course always makes a difference of 15 per cent in the price.

At last we can announce to our readers free navigation between Montevideo and Buenos Ayres. All quarantine at both ports on vessels coming from either is abolished from Monday morning next. We may add that we have this from official source, so those parties who have been waiting here to go down to Montevideo may leave by first steamer.

The local directors of Liebig's Extract of Meat Company, Fray Bentos, have, in consequence of Mr. Giebert's death, named Messrs. R. Schmidt and E. Kemmerich managers of the establishment pro tem.

We hear from Montevideo that an application is about to be made to the Legislature down there to impose a fresh tax on the private banks. In the way of taxation we stand as a nation in the first rank. People who do not know Montevideo may possibly imagine that so unjust a tax will be opposed.

The returns of traffic on the Rio Cuarto Railway for the last year show pretty clearly that Mr. Wheelwright's estimates as to the earnings of the road were well founded. The passenger traffic for the last six months gave 9188 pats, parcels 465 pats, cargo 14,353 pats. Total 24,011 pats. receipts, against 21,366 pats. expenses, leaving net earnings for six months 2635 pats. to pay interest on capital. It is clear that the traffic is insufficient to support the line, and will be still less when the Transandine Railway is contructed, which will tap the trade.

The sales of horned cattle at corto are very active at present To day we heard of 3700 in the South at 145 m/c, also the sale of 7000 novillos and cows for saladero, deliverable up to August at 240 m/c.

The arrivals coastwise of wheat, maize, hides and other produce are splendid. Everything keeps coming in now, even potatoes and quinces All the Boca people are head and ears in produce affairs, and things down there begin to look better.

The La Plata entered port to-day late, and the Gironde and Ebro enter in the morning. Owing to the very extraordinary rules now in force it seems that the Gironde's passengers cannot land to-morrow, Sunday, and as a storm threatens it may fall out that they cannot come ashore for several days. This Sunday decree against landing poor immigrants is a most inhospitable edict.

Captain Ferguson, of the s.s. Thales, was welcomed on 'Change. He comes from Rosario and San Nicolas, and leaves to-day. We have obtained from him the following interesting maritime intelligence—

"March 23rd—S.s. Thales left Rosario with the following cargo: 4233 bags of maize and barley, 430 bales of wool, 10 tons of copper, and a large amount of specie for both Montevideo and England. Arrived at San Nicolas same day, and received the following cargo there: 3000 salted hides and 318 bales of wool.

"March 25th—Sailed from S. Nicolas and arrived at San Pedro same day, and received 287 bales of wool.

"The above I believe to be the largest cargo ever taken by any one steamer from the River Parana.

"March 26th, 6 a.m.—Left San Pedro and arrived at Buenos Ayres 7 p.m. same day, passing the following vessels in the River:

"Barque Spartell, ten miles below S. Pedro.

"A Brazilian steamer on shore 14 miles below San Pedro.

"Twenty miles below San Pedro met a Brazilian gunboat steaming up river.

"Barque Aldebaran, working down.

"Barque William Wilson, of Whitehaven, bound up, 10 miles below Botegas Island.

"Brig Maranho 3°. 10 miles above Martin Garcia, bound up.

"Barque Grecian Bend, at anchor off Martin Garcia, bound down.

"Barque Ogmore, of Sunderland, at anchor this side of Martin Garcia bar.

"Brig Victoria, NW of San Juan bar.

"Barques Golden West and Felix et Henri crossing bar of San Juan.

The Bank discount yesterday was the heaviest during the week, 16,000,000 granted and 35,000,000 asked; the applications were unusually large, and we hear that much accommodation paper was offered and declined. The Bank has discounted during the week some 40,000,000 currency which after all for this market is a good deal; besides this we have the National Bank that has discounted during the week some half a million of patacones. Giving in round numbers a total to the market of say 2,000,000 pats or say 50,000,000 currency; yet spite of all this the market is a stringency which can only be removed by the Prov. Bank reducing its amortization to 6 per cent instead of 10 per cent as at present.

Mr. Raymond, the well-known auctioneer requests us to advise parties who wish to buy a nice dwelling house cheap, that to-morrow (Sunday) he sells by auction without the least reserve a fine house in Calle Charcas 10½x50 No. 126, the house at present gives 2,600 m/c rent per month.

We publish in another column a letter from Messrs. Ogilvie, Wythes and Co. respecting the great City Improvement contract, and shall in continuation publish the other papers which we take from the official report now published by order of the Government. The papers, for our mercantile readers, will doubtless prove most interesting.

The Barraquero room was much more crowded this Saturday than last, and the business of the week, spite of the holidays, shows a decided improvement. Wools within the last few days are much more active, and even before the Gironde's telegrams came up announcing a rise of from 10 to 15 centimes, prices had risen in the South market. The payments for produce to-day, although not to say heavy, reached several millions, and at all the private banks there was a brisk movement. As regards the collections we heard the usual complaints.

The sales of land in the new town of Saavedra alongside the far famed Nunez park, the other-side of Belgrano continue, and there can be no doubt in a few years those delightful park grounds will all be built on and settled, perhaps one of the prettiest suburbs about this city: the following are the sales—

The best news to-day was that the Provincial Legislature has at last met, and business of importance pushed through. Many parties despaired of ever seeing the Legislature again in session, so long has been the interlude. However, as the house appears now in business trim, the Government has put forward the Budget for the present year. The figures are most important, and yet large as they look, they are insufficient to meet the disbursements—

The steamer from Paraguay yesterday brought advices of little importance. Some speculation it seems is going on in paper money up there, but it amounts to nothing. The yerba industry we hear well spoken of as steadily increasing, but in the way of trade the only thing that keeps the place alive is the Brazilian soldiers.

In our exchange article of yesterday we unintentionally stated "that Messrs. Rodriguez' Duncan and Co. not only effected splendid sales at their auction in Lanus, but also sold equally well at Donselaar, notwithstanding that Mr. Donnehy was there to oppose them." Messrs. Rodriguez, Duncan and Co. have never sold anything at Donselaar, nor in any single instance has Mr. Donnehy opposed them, neither was he in Donselaar on the day in question. The sale at Donselaar to-morrow (Sunday) will be the most important this season. The proposed branch railway to Ensenada will in process of time make it the terminus for produce, as the new Punta Lara molo now open to the shipping trade of Buenos Ayres offers immense convenience to shippers, and the day is not far distant when the rising town of Donselaar will be studded with barracas. Speculation has a good hold in such a rising quarter.

SAVINGS BANK
BANK MAUA AND CO.
101--Calle Cangallo--103
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo, and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depository for their savings.

The sums deposited in that very important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in improper gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, offer the same facilities in this city, and has opened a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo from Nine a.m. till Three p.m. every day, for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned, Sundays and holidays excepted.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interes will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá & Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighborhood.

Buenos Ayres, 2nd January, 1867.

P. P. MAUA & Co.,

M. A. DE FREITAS AMORIM

CONDITIONS.

First—The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty-five Dollars currency or one Silver Dollar upwards.

Second—The interest allowed is six per cent. (6 p. %) per annum, which is liquidated every six months.

Third—The depositors can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wish can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL prevents the hair falling off or turning grey, strengthens weak hair, causes it to grow on bald places, and makes it beautifully soft pliable, and glossy. Price 3s. 6d., 7s., 10s 6ds equal to four small, and 21s. per bottle.

IMPORTANT CAUTION—Ask for Rowland's Macassar Oil, and avoid all other cheap articles under the same or similar names as spurious imitations. Each bottle has a glass stopper instead of the cork as formerly. All with the cork are spurious imitations.

ROWLAND'S KALYDOR removes cutaneous disfigurements, freckles, and tan, and imparts a healthy and blooming appearance to the skin. During the heat and dust of summer especially, and in cases of sunburns and stings of insects, it is of the utmost use. Price 4s. 6d. and 8s 6d. per bottle. Ask for "Rowland's Kalydor."

ROWLAND'S ODONTO, or Pearl Dentrifice, preserves and imparts a pearl-like whiteness to the teeth, eradicates tartar and spots of incipient decay, strengthens the gums, and gives a pleasing fragrance to the breath. Price 2s. 9d. per box. Ask for "Rowland's Odonto."

ROWLAND'S ESSENCE of TYRE never fails to produce immediately a perfect change in red or grey hair, whiskers, eyebrows, &c., to a beautiful glossy and permanent brown or black, which colour remains so durable, that neither washing nor perspiration can remove it. Price 4s., 7s, 6d., and 10s. 6d, per bottle.

All these articles have been used and justly, appreciated by all the Sovereigns and Courts of Europe, the Pope of Rome, and the aristocracy of the world, during the last 70 years, being of inestimable value to those who have once used them. They are sold by all chemists, perfumers, and bazaars throughout India, Australia, the Colonies, and South America.
